

Biography – Cornelius Asghar

Originally from Pakistan, Cornelius decided to move to Blackpool with his wife Mona five years ago. With over two decades of knowledge and experience in the church education sector in his native country, Cornelius brought his talents and passion for serving others to the UK.

He offered his time and skills to his local church and a few charitable organisations, demonstrating his deep-rooted commitment to the community. Before starting his formal ministry training Cornelius served as an Authorised Lay Minister in Blackpool.

After completing his placement as an Ordinand at St. Laurence Church Chorley, Cornelius eagerly anticipates the next chapter of his journey as a curate within the same church; where he has an unwavering passion for ministry and steadfast dedication to the community.
